Governor Seeks Stepped-up State Park Development

Lansing — Higgins Lake State Park is on the priority list for improvements during the 1956-57 fiscal year if the Legislature approves a program he has recommended, Governor Williams said today. Expenditures at the park would total $42,500 according to his proposal.

Pointing out that Michigan's parks are in a critical condition, the Governor asked that $3,000,000 be appropriated for a stepped-up development program throughout the state park system. His proposal is still in the House Ways and Means Committee. His program, he said, would provide for improved facilities and make possible the purchase of land for new parks and for enlargement of some now in existence.

The critical nature of the parks situation became apparent in 1955, said Williams, when for the first time visitors on a number of occasions were turned away from parks which were literally filled to overflowing. Last year's total state park attendance reached an unprecedented 18,000,000 visitors and, he said, attendance in 1956 will probably exceed that figure.

"Michigan is now the fourth tourist state in the Union," said the Governor. "It can and should become the first, if adequate investment in our vacationland is made in the next few years. The State Legislature goes along with the program we now have before it, I foresee the day in the near future when we will move ahead of Florida in percentage of national tourist business. The other two leading states are California and New York, and I believe Michigan may surpass them, too."

The Governor said his recommendations for state parks are based upon "a growing realization that the American family, with its pots and pans in the luggage compartment of the car and its bed rolls strapped on top is big business. And we are beginning to realize fully that the whole central part of America is going to depend, in future years, upon these two peninsulas of ours for a place to enjoy the outdoors."

An analysis of expenditures on parks shows that Michigan is near the bottom of the list. On capital outlay, operation and maintenance, New York State spends 44 cents for each park visitor. California spends 74.3 cents, and Florida spends 42 cents. Michigan spends only 13.3 cents.

"This kind of neglect," the Governor said, "is beginning to catch up with us."

New York and California, the Governor asserted, are capitalizing handsomely on their investment. He pointed out that between them, they have received 20 percent of all tourists dollars in 1954, the last year for which tabulation is complete.

"Nearly a third of our parks lack modern sanitation facilities," he said. "In the two-thirds where there are such facilities, failures of the sewage disposal and water systems last summer emphasized the need for repair, remodeling and replacement."

KALKASKA COUPLE WED IN M. M. CHURCH

The Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Puffer announce the marriage of Mrs. Puffer's sister, Dorothy Mecom of Kalkaska to Garry McDonald also of Kalkaska.

The marriage ceremony was performed before members of the immediate family in the Methodist Memorial Church Saturday evening, January 3rd at 8 o'clock by Rev. Puffer.

The bride couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank James, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Traditional wedding marches from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn were played by Mrs. Floyd Taylor. The song "I'll Walk Beside You" was also sung by Mrs. Taylor.

After the ceremony cake and coffee were served in the parlor of the annex of the church.

The four-tier wedding cake topped by a bride and groom dressed in white, adorned the lace-covered table. Mrs. Taylor poured while Mrs. Puffer served.

The couple will live at their Beech Ridge farm home in Kalkaska County.

Is Girl Scout Week

On Monday, March 12, the Girl Scouts of America celebrated their 44th birthday and the entire week has been set aside in honor of the organization.

Over two million young ladies in our country are of this nation-wide organization which in turn is affiliated with a world organization of Girl Scouts and Guides. The movement is healthy and growing in different countries in the world.

There are in Crawford County, about 100 girls participate in the Brownies, Intermediate or Senior Girl Scout groups. Frederick leads the way with a troop in each of the categories, while Grayling has an Intermediate and Lovells, a Brownie group.

So this week, it's hats off to the Girl Scouts on their 44th Birthday and the week long celebration. It is a rather good idea too to tip the hat to the leaders who give of their time and effort in this worthwhile youth movement.—R. W. S.

Lions Never Saw An Elephant!

Some may wonder why the circus keeps coming year after year. After all, the acts and the animals and the clowns and all the rest of it are pretty much the same.

One reason is that a great new audience comes into this country each year. Last year, for instance, 4,000,000 babies were born—and none had seen an elephant.

In other words, the circus comes back because the American scene is forever changing. There's a lesson for merchants and all other business people. They must keep on selling their wares and attractions to their new customers as well as their old. And they must help sell, too, the philosophies and ideals, based on change, that have made this country what it is. For new faces need to learn about them—and all the rest of us need to be constantly reminded.

The Merchants took a seven point lead in the first few minutes of play. The Jacks came back strong and tightened the score. Both teams displayed some very good basketball. The Merchants won from the Jacks on the Harbor Springs floor by one point in an overtime period earlier in the season. It looked very much as though this game was going the same way until Harrison dribbled through for a basket in the last minute of play. Hendrickson was high man for the Jacks with 13.

The play "One Hundred Grands" with all the side acts, which was put on in the High School auditorium here last Feb. 17, was taken to Roscommon last night and put on in the Gerrish-Higgins High school under the sponsorship of the P. Mr. BARTREM: "That is right. Our union preferred Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection."

Fourth Grade Transportation Display

Pictured above is the display made by the Fourth Grade children in their study of the topic of Transportation.

Transportation — The Fourth Grade

WHAT WE TEACH AND HOW WE TEACH IT

By Mrs. Laura Giegling

A unit of work means choosing a topic and using all available materials to develop it through a natural sequence to a logical conclusion.

This unit was used one day a week ago for a period of four weeks. The picture was taken so the children might have something to enjoy after the unit was completed. The many different kinds of transportation were brought by the children and were enjoyed by all.

Before starting a unit of work a teacher must have in mind all the things that might be developed. Books, stories, pictures, films, songs, maps, scrapbook materials as well as media for art work, need to have a special place. This is for the convenience of the children if they can find things for themselves if the materials have a definite place and they do not need to look through too many unrelated books to find something usable.

This unit involved the use of reading for pleasure and reading to obtain information. Spelling of new words, listing rhyming words and descriptive words are a help when sentences and stories are to be written and were a help to the children in their story about wheels. Songs and poems tell stories of travel in other lands. The road maps were used to learn which highways lead to other cities from Grayling, and the mileage between places made interesting arithmetic problems.

Each child made a scrapbook and considerable art work helped with creative thinking. The paper cutting pictures were original and some were a bit on the modern side, especially the camel.

The film used showed the development of the highway from the first trails to the present system of intricate highways we see in some of the larger cities.

Each unit is a little better than the last. We are now on the Solar System. Ask some questions. We know many answers.

Feldhauser P. T. A. Meets

The Feldhauser P. T. A. met Tuesday night of last week, with 12 members present. A bazaar for next summer was discussed, as a means to raise enough money to buy a movie projector for the school. Last year's bazaar was quite successful, so it was decided that a repeat would be desirable. Coffee and cake were served by a committee made up of Mrs. Robert Yoder and Mrs. Marguerite Leslie. The mystery prize was won by Mrs. Barney Vallad.

Your Partner In Safety!

Here, from your partner in safety — the truck driver — are some friendly suggestions for furthering safe driving on our highways. If everybody co-operates, we'll all enjoy happier, safe driving.

1. Be sure your car is in good operating condition at all times.
2. Obey all traffic laws.
3. In planning a trip, don't schedule more miles per day than you can comfortably and safely drive.
4. On long drives, stop now and then to rest and relax.
5. Never pass on a hill.
6. Courtesy and patience are two very necessary ingredients to safe driving.
7. Don't follow too closely the car ahead of you.
8. Accident statistics continue to rate speed as the number one cause of automobile accidents — so keep it down.

ly by the church, and was shown

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Tomato Cheese Sandwiches
(Serves 3-4)
6 slices toast
2 cups grated processed
American cheese
2 1/2 cups canned tomato juice
1/4 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper Cover bottom of shallow baking dish with three slices toast.
Sprinkle with one-half of the cheese. Cover with remaining toast and cheese. Pour over this the tomato juice blended with onion salt and pepper.
Bake for one-half hour in preheated moderately hot (375°F.)
oven.

from sputtering all over your dinner table.
Fragile bedspreads are best laun-dered when they're basted onto a bed sheet. You'll find that this makes handling them easier, too, especially when you want to lift them on and off the line.
If you don't have an egg poacher, make your own by using the small size aluminum pie tins that come when you purchase frozen pies at the store, or fashion your own out of aluminum foil. Butter them, drop in egg and place in a saucepan with water. Cover while cooking.
Ash trays can be sprinkled with baking soda to prevent fire. It will also get rid of stale odors from them which fill your house before they are emptied.

up from Brownies.

We are glad to welcome the will enjoy being in our troop.

We finished our sewing boxes which will be part of our display

Lovells Notes

By Mrs. Clarence Stillwagon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steckling returned home Saturday from the sunny south, just in time for the big snow storm.

Mrs. Edith Spaulding and Mrs.
Marie Dany drove up from Midland Tuesday and Mary Miller who has been in Saginaw with her husband, at the hospital, returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Mundt drove to Saginaw and Bill Miller, who has been a patient in Saginaw General Hospital, returned home with them.

Community Chapel Guild met last week with Marie Laurie for their regular meeting with seven members being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Johnson of Saginaw spent a few days at their cabin on Big Creek.

The "500" party met with Mr.
and Mrs. Bill Korenke with 13 present. All had a very nice time. Prizes went to Mrs. Edith Hartman and Fred Korenke, and consolation prizes to Luella Korenke. The next party Saturday, March 17 will be at the Fred Korenke home. All are invited to attend.

Calvary Baptist Church News
Rev. Alvin Johnson of Kalamazoo will be with us Sunday, March 18. It is important that all try and hear him, as he is one of the candidates chosen to be recalled to speak the second time at the Calvary meeting.

Ladies' meeting was held Tuesday evening, March 6 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hendrickson. There weren't too many out as the result of the rain and snow storm that evening. But we accomplished a lot as we decided on a work project of making supplies for the Mid-Assam Hospital in Assam, India. Our first project will be making bandages from old sheets and other white cotton material making patients' gowns from men's old shirts and making gauze dressings. There are more projects we want to start on soon.

So if you like to sew and do any of the kind of work, come to our next meeting and also bring any discarded sheets, shirts and gause dressings that you have no use for any more. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith, April 3. After the meeting we hostess, Mrs. A. E. Hendrickson.

Wednesday evening mid week prayer and Bible study was well attended. We also had a short business meeting afterward.

We can blame the weather for our low attendance in Sunday school and church as most people probably couldn't get out of their driveways. The down river bus went out but didn't make it back in time for Sunday school. Rev.
Henry Sunburg of Houghton Lake preached a wonderful sermon on John 1:1-18 entitled "Jesus as the Word of God." In the evening Mrs. Sunburg played the piano and Rev. Sunburg led the song service and played a trombone.
We also enjoyed a duet song by Rev. and Mrs. Sunburg. The evening message was taken from 2
Cor. 6: and verse 1 of Ch. 7, entitled, "A living savior."

Christine Canfield had charge of young peoples at 6:15 Sunday evening. The theme of the meeting was "Prophecy in Wonderland." Mrs. Sunburg had a very fine message for young people.
Next weeks meeting is entitled
"What do You Know." Mary Ann Underwood will be in charge of the meeting.

Nine smokers out of each 20 can recall the advertising message on matchbooks in their pockets, a recent survey determines.

Captive kangaroos are easily taught to box men in exhibitions.
The main problem is teaching them to forgo their terrible kick.

Expect Major Changes In Legislative Lineup In State By Next Year

Major changes in the legislative lineup already have been pronounced for next year, mainly in the Senate.

Retirement and questions for higher offices will make the major changes in the physical — but probably not the political — face of the Senate.

Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), majority caucus chairman, will run for Congress from the third district. Senator Cora M. Brown (D-DeWitt) will seek the first district seat.

Miss Brown summed it up for herself, Coleman and other making the try for Washington:

"There's so much more than can be done for the people on the Federal level."

If Miss Brown and Coleman both arrive in the House of Representatives together, they will be in position to re-enact many legislative battles on the Lansing scene.

Resignations have been decided upon by Senators Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) and Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland).

Geerlings said he was quitting after two terms because he is "tired of being a champion of lost causes" and Faulkner, chairman of the labor committee, said his variety store business required his attention.

Gasoline prices, an issue for years, have escaped state controls proposed by Governor William E. Sweeney. The plan for a "wait-and-see" committee with powers to try to manufacturers and wholesalers to explain price changes increases has been killed in committee.

Death came to the plan just 30 days after Williams made the proposal, based on an investigation conducted by Atty. General Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh urged that gasoline stations, refineries and blenders be licensed and the entire business be defined as a public utility and placed under the public service commission.

Look for more action next year on this idea from both Republicans and Democrats.

Stronger Penalties for distributors of obscene literature have been passed by the 1956 legislature, and will become effective in the spring.

The law will be liable for fines of up to $1,000 and jail terms of up to a year.

The stiffer penalties were a direct outgrowth of an investigation which turned up sales of obscene literature being peddled among Detroit high school students.

"But we knew that the problem is state-wide," said one legislator.

Dissatisfaction with the record of Rep. Donald Hayworth in Washington has created a near-crisis in the sixth congressional district. Ingalls, Livingston and General counties.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Information "On The Line"

was reading the other day a person can get all sorts of things just by dialing a number on his telephone.

In New York you can get the weather, or a prayer. Philadelphia it's the stock reports. In Boston a voice tells bird watchers what's to be watched the park.

Over in Europe, they go further. Vienna offers a five-minute story tale for kids. In Switzerland you can get the news in any of three languages. And a couple of places have "talking menus" for desperate housewives.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if ideas are put out by telephone, through editorials, or in person—as long as we can take them or leave them. I happen to like a glass of beer with my supper. You may prefer coffee, tea or branch water. Well, there's no harm in "listening" to another's opinions ... but if he should try to force them on you, it's always an American's privilege to simply "hang up!"

Harbor Spring' Don Lauer Is Top Scorer For Class "C" League

Viking's Strong Fifth In Conference Scoring

Harbor Springs' Don Lauer, a 6 ft. 4 in. center, captured the Northern Michigan Class C scoring title for 1955-56 season, scoring 242 points in 14 games. In addition he tallied 44 points in non-league games during the season.

Nels Northup who led the race during the first half of the season has 235 points, eight points less than Lauer. He scored 40 points in two non-league games.

Lauer whose team finished in the league cellar along with Gaylord scored the major part of his team's points, dumping in 94 field goals and 55 free throws. He scored 106 points during the first seven games and 136 in the second half of the season. He is a junior and this has been his second year on the varsity squad.

Northup, top scorer for the new league champions, the Boyne City Ramblers scored 120 points during the first half of the season and five less than that number in the second half. He scored his total on 84 field goals and 67 free throws. He is a senior.

Quint Walker of Charlevoix, who is third in league scoring with 218 points has the distinction of holding the individual scoring record for the season, 31 points scored against Gaylord two weeks ago. Nine field goals and 13 of 16 free throw attempts accounted for the scoring record.

Larry Woodcock of East Jordan, who is fourth place, two points behind Walker with a total of 216 points almost doubled his scoring average during the second half of the season, scoring 74 points and 142 during the second half of the schedule.

The Grayling Viking's 6 foot 5 inch Bob Strong with 197 points led the Crawford County team and placed fifth in scoring in the Northern Class C Conference. Besides this total, he scored 49 more points in three non-league games for a season's total of 246. Viking captain Dave Lowe scored 180 points in conference play and 222 for his season's total. Ron Johnson of Mancelona tops his team's scoring with 181 points and Les Ball with 160 points succeeds Frank Durkalec as top scorer for Pellston.

Frederic Eagles Lose To St. Mary's Of Gaylord In 1st Tourney Game

The Frederic Eagles, thrown against the powerful Gaylord St. Mary's Snow Birds in their first tournament action last Wednesday night at Gaylord, were dropped from further contention by the northern Class D quintet.

Gaylord St. Mary's boasting of a season record with the mark of only one defeat, had a tournament victory over Wolverine 55 to 42 on Tuesday night before meeting Frederic.

St. Mary, after a first-period scare for the second night in the districts, when they trailed 13-16, really rolled in the last three frames, despite the fact Coach Stan Solokis threw 16 of his Snow Birds into the fray. His first line, all except Pat McCoy, hit in double figures as Pat Kelly counted 19 on 7-5, Gene Nowak 16 on 5-6, and Cas Dzwik and John Cook 12 each on 5-2 and 6-0, respectively. Frederic was paced by Larry Baynham and Wayne Winston, who hit identical scores of 14 on seven fields.

Pres. Eisenhower's Decision To Run Significant In State Politics

Decision of President Eisenhower to run for President on the Republican ticket has its significance in each state as well as the nation as a whole.

In Michigan, as elsewhere, Republicans are jubilant; Democrats are grim.

Now that politicians know that he will run, they are busy trying to make the best possible plans. The GOP is worrying about who should be the gubernatorial candidate. Democrats are less worried about the governor's office; more concerned about picking up more seats in the House and Senate.

Overconfidence can be a factor in both parties. While Republicans are being careful not to infer that "Ike can't lose," their opponents are also pretending that they do not feel sure about the chances of Gov. Williams.

A spokesman for the Democratic party said, "It won't be a push over for us next fall. Ike has long coat tails, and there's no telling who'll be on them."

Republicans claim the department still has its own program and that the separate agency will merely co-ordinate it with others such as those in the medical schools.

Democrats already are polishing speeches for a battle against the bill in the House.

Senate-passed legislation preventing any organization from forcing political contributions from its members is ready for another House battle.

Senator Lewis G. Christian (R.-Ark.) came up with the bill which he says will apply both to big business and unions.

After the 1954 elections, Republicans pointed out that many union people voted Republican. They charge that some union members object to having their dues spent for Democratic candidates. Republicans want a law to halt the practice.

Democrats countered that big corporations, already barred from contributions, pressured individuals to contribute money which wound up in Republican coffers.

"So this is an answer to both sides," said Christian.

Democrats have been fighting the bill, calling it a new version of a "right-to-work" bill, but lost their battle when Republicans ran up the 11 votes needed to pass it through the Senate.

Insiders see it as an issue which will revive the coalition in the House of 46 Democrats and seven "Young Turk" Republicans.

Upper Peninsula legislators said the Saturday opening would give hunters three weeks more in the woods and ease the plight of businessmen whose employees are absent during at least some of the week days during the season.

"With a Saturday opening every year, they still would want to leave on Wednesday to get established in camp," Prescott said.

Democrats in the House are planning an all-out fight against the bill, saying it was adopted by the Senate because it dips into the powers of the administration.

It is patterned after the "Kansas Plan," developed by the Menninger Foundation, which was visited by lawmakers last year.

The idea is to train psychiatrists and go into a system of mental care emphasizing treatment—quickly and efficiently—rather than long-term stays in a mental hospital.

Under the Michigan version, a separate committee will be set up under the University of Michigan Board of Regents. It will conduct the training program.

In addition, three medical school faculty members from Wayne University and the U.M. will be added to the Michigan Mental Health Commission, increasing the membership to eight.

Republicans feel that this program of concentrated training, research and quick treatment will eventually lessen the need for building hospitals.

"It is a program of buying brains, instead of bricks," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R., Battle Creek).

Democrats feel that the state department of mental health can do just as effective a job with a little more money and personnel. They argue that the separate agency idea splits off an important function of the department.

Not that anyone cares, but an irritated male alligator can be heard for a mile. Under natural conditions, the male alligator grows about a foot a year until adult size is attained. His hollow increases with his size.

Horatio Alger, Jr., who died in 1899, was one of America's most widely read writers. He studied at the Harvard Divinity School and became a clergyman. The Newsboys' Lodging House, New York, where he lived for many years, inspired his series of boys' books which include Ragged Dick and Tattered Tom. During his lifetime he wrote 119 extraordinarily popular novels.

Sadly enough, 25 per cent of all people are allergic, in some degree, to one or more substances. The "victims" can be unusually sensitive to things they eat, breathe or touch. Some people become allergic to sunlight, cold, or the toxins of bacteria in their own bodies.

Republicans point to their strategy of not putting all their political eggs in the Eisenhower basket as indication of their thinking. A GOP leader said, "We started our campaign long ago. We are going to the grass roots level to sell the sound Republican principles and policies. We are training our workers in every community in the state. We've got a great package to sell, and we want to get it sold to the right man in the right way."

Automatic opening of the deer season on the nearest Saturday to November 15 was defeated in this legislative session.

It was less a struggle between sportsmen and conservationists than a battle between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas, the businesses and schools.

"I wouldn't live so long as to be able to explain back home why I voted for an automatic Saturday opening," said Senator Charles T. Prescott (R.-Prescott).

Prescott said his bill to adjust the small game seasons had been victimized by backers of the Saturday opening bill and "even his own mother wouldn't recognize it now."

Upper Peninsula legislators said the Saturday opening would give hunters three weeks more in the woods and ease the plight of businessmen whose employees are absent during at least some of the week days during the season.

"With a Saturday opening every year, they still would want to leave on Wednesday to get established in camp," Prescott said.

Republicans claim the department still has its own program and that the separate agency will merely co-ordinate it with others such as those in the medical schools.

Democrats already are polishing speeches for a battle against the bill in the House.

Senate-passed legislation preventing any organization from forcing political contributions from its members is ready for another House battle.

Senator Lewis G. Christian (R.-Ark.) came up with the bill which he says will apply both to big business and unions.

After the 1954 elections, Republicans pointed out that many union people voted Republican. They charge that some union members object to having their dues spent for Democratic candidates. Republicans want a law to halt the practice.

Democrats countered that big corporations, already barred from contributions, pressured individuals to contribute money which wound up in Republican coffers.

"So this is an answer to both sides," said Christian.

Democrats have been fighting the bill, calling it a new version of a "right-to-work" bill, but lost their battle when Republicans ran up the 11 votes needed to pass it through the Senate.

Insiders see it as an issue which will revive the coalition in the House of 46 Democrats and seven "Young Turk" Republicans.

Upper Peninsula legislators said the Saturday opening would give hunters three weeks more in the woods and ease the plight of businessmen whose employees are absent during at least some of the week days during the season.

"With a Saturday opening every year, they still would want to leave on Wednesday to get established in camp," Prescott said.

Democrats in the House are planning an all-out fight against the bill, saying it was adopted by the Senate because it dips into the powers of the administration.

It is patterned after the "Kansas Plan," developed by the Menninger Foundation, which was visited by lawmakers last year.

The idea is to train psychiatrists and go into a system of mental care emphasizing treatment—quickly and efficiently—rather than long-term stays in a mental hospital.

Under the Michigan version, a separate committee will be set up under the University of Michigan Board of Regents. It will conduct the training program.

In addition, three medical school faculty members from Wayne University and the U.M. will be added to the Michigan Mental Health Commission, increasing the membership to eight.

Republicans feel that this program of concentrated training, research and quick treatment will eventually lessen the need for building hospitals.

"It is a program of buying brains, instead of bricks," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R., Battle Creek).

Democrats feel that the state department of mental health can do just as effective a job with a little more money and personnel. They argue that the separate agency idea splits off an important function of the department.

Not that anyone cares, but an irritated male alligator can be heard for a mile. Under natural conditions, the male alligator grows about a foot a year until adult size is attained. His hollow increases with his size.
